

Articulation agreement between North Idaho College and University of Idaho, including a vision for the early pathway for Law School at University of Idaho (<https://www.uidaho.edu/law/law-prospective/3-and-3>)

Follow the proposed timeline below for completion of this plan

Years 1 and 2 at North Idaho College

- Follow a NIC and U of I Philosophy pathway to earn your Associates of Arts in Philosophy degree at NIC
 - Complete all suggested courses listed on that pathway to fulfill requirements

Year 2 at North Idaho College

- In the late fall or Early Spring
 - Apply to University of Idaho (rolling admissions, no hard deadline)
- In the Spring (after application for admission to U of I)
 - Submit University of Idaho Law School registration form by May 15th*
 - Sign up for Fall LSAT – note score release date
- In the Summer
 - Study for LSAT

Years 3 and 4 (1st and 2nd years at University of Idaho)

- Follow a NIC and U of I Philosophy pathway to earn your Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in Philosophy at U of I
 - Complete all courses and requirements as required by the major
 - Work closely with your advisor, the department, and the U of I College of Law to coordinate your entrance into the 3+3 program
 - Take first year Law courses to fulfill the 20 credit of related fields requirements

Year 3 (1st year at University of Idaho)

- In the Fall
 - Take the LSAT
 - Start your application to the college of law; submit it by January 15th with your LSAT score

Year 4 (2nd year at University of Idaho)

- Take 30 credits from the Law School
 - Work with the College of Law, your department, and your advisor so these will satisfy the 20 related fields credits requirement for your Philosophy B.S./B.A.

*Admission into Law School is not guaranteed on this program. Please review the requirements of the 3+3 program on the registration form page for requirements for admission.